Institutional Distinctiveness

"RBANM's FGC is different in "Shaping Leaders Through Distinctive Army and Navy NCC Units"

The National Cadet Corps (NCC) plays a key role in shaping students into disciplined, responsible, and patriotic individuals.

Our institution hosts two NCC wings to contributing to the holistic development of students namely the Army Wing, celebrated its Silver Jubilee and the Navy Wing has been established in 2016 completing seven years.

The Army Wing emphasizes leadership, teamwork, and discipline through rigorous training in drills, weapon handling, map reading and communication. Cadets undergo physical fitness exercises and participate in leadership camps, such as the EBSB Camp, where they showcase their skills in competitive military events. Beyond military training, the Army Wing is deeply involved in community service, organizing blood donation camps, cleanliness drives, and disaster relief operations.

The Navy Wing focuses on maritime training, including sailing, navigation, and maritime security, along with adventurous activities like boating and rock climbing. Key programs like Waterman Ship Training and Seamanship Camps provide hands-on experience in maritime skills. The Navy Wing also contributes to national integration and environmental sustainability through various social service projects.

Many students from RBANM's FGC have successfully joined the Indian Armed Forces or excelled in related sectors.

Both wings instill leadership, confidence, and resilience, preparing cadets for defense careers and leadership roles in civilian life. The NCC experience cultivates well-rounded individuals committed to national service and excellence.
